

CLARA WILL FIGHT FOR 'PAY IN FULL'

Great Legal Battle Over Hamon Estate Brewing in Ardmore

FOR 10 YEARS OF LIFE

But What Clara Gets May Be Through Generosity of Mrs. Jake Hamon

By MILDRED MORRIS
T. N. S. Staff Correspondent
ARDMORE, Okla., Jan. 8.—Clara Hamon is determined to be paid in full for the ten years she gave the man with whom murder she is charged.

Developments today indicated a struggle for the million left by Jake Hamon, oil king and republican national committeeman, that may form a sensational episode to Clara Hamon's trial. It became known that Clara Hamon, if she is freed and no satisfaction is made in the meantime, plans to file suit to compel the administrator of the oil king's estate to produce the will which she claims was executed in her presence and bequeathed her one-fourth of a fortune valued at from $15,000,000 to $30,000,000.

Mrs. Hamon "in" too.
Pitted against her in the struggle for Hamon's millions is the woman who in the eyes of the law was his wife. In the contest over the fortune left by the man who brought tragedy into the lives of both, the two women may meet face to face for the first time.

Frank L. Keith, Hamon's business partner and administrator of his estate, insists there is no will. If it is shown that the slain oil king died intestate, the bulk of his millions will go to the widow and her two children, and whether the woman who figured more intimately in his life during the last ten years than his own wife, receives a substantial part of the fortune may depend upon the generosity of the widow.

Mrs. Jake Silent.
Mrs. Jake Hamon, the widow, is silent in this drama of souls and millions. A widow, she knows little more about her husband than she was willing to return to the oil king when he felt it necessary to his political career to assume the role of a respectable married man. The charge is made that she is "under influences" that will prevent her coming to testify against the girl charged with her husband's murder.

"These influences," it is claimed, have stationed detectives at her home in Chicago to watch her movements. Clara Hamon refuses to discuss her claims to Hamon's estate. She makes it clear that her chief concern now is to clear her name of the charge of murder. Then, she says, will be the time to "demand her payment in full."

Rumors that a move has been made to effect a compromise were denied today by her attorney, C. A. Coakley.

TAKES COURT TO KITCHEN

Wife Tells Offender to Stay at Home; Justice "Moves in" for Session
LEES SUMMIT, Mo., Jan. 8.—Mahomet went to the mountain and Justice J. A. Woods moved his court to a kitchen.

The court removal, which had the countryside smiling today, was to the home of Ferman Alley, dairyman, charged with selling a quartered cow. Alley disregarded the summons to appear for a hearing because his wife "had ordered him to stay in the kitchen."

"You say come to court; my wife says stay here," was Alley's reply to the summons. "I'll stay here." So "Mahomet" Woods moved his court. Amid the pots and pans he fined Alley $50 after finding him guilty of the illegal bovine sale.

And the evidence, by the way, was the hide of an exhumed cow.

"Coin" Verdict Is Seven Years.
OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 8.—James Churchill, who, according to the Detective Chief, P. S. Zankowski, lost when he flipped a coin with Pleasant Lowe to decide which was to confess after they were arrested as burglar suspects, today was sentenced in district court to one to seven years on pleading guilty of grand larceny.

The French government has organized motor laboratories which test wells and other supplies of drinking water on the spot.

Allen Brooks in "Dollars and Sense" Headlines Orpheum Bill

Alan Brooks is a personality in vaudeville that is different to the point of distinction. He has brought to the two-day theater all the artistic craftsmanship of the two dollar—now two dollars and a half theater, and in doing so has created for himself a well earned prominence that makes his appearance at any theater a matter of interest in things theatrical.

An author, producer, and star, he first conceived, then exploits, and finally personally portrays and presents his unique dramatic conceptions. In this way, every phase of the piece that he appears in has been most carefully thought out and worked out before it is presented to the public.

In "Dollars and Sense" the multiple scene drama that he has written, he has most happily hit upon the all-absorbing and always vital composite theme, the heart and the pocketbook. The retroactive scenic presentation of the piece adds novelty to what would in any event be a most engrossing drama and the brilliant dialogue has been favorably compared by the most prominent critics throughout the country to the best that our finest writers

JAZZ IS STILL POPULAR

Sheet Music Dealers Say Only the Sedate Ask for Technical Masterpieces

Jazz for the young people and sedate music for the older ones. That is the way things are supposed to work in a music shop, and for the last few months that is the way they have been working. Sheet music and phonograph records, vocal and instrumental, old and new, all apply to all. For the young are demanding light fast pieces while the more advanced in years are happy with the slow, artistic kind.

So say the people of the music shops of Tulsa, and their clerks bear out their statements.
"We are selling the two extremes," said the manager of a local phonograph shop. "That is, we are selling the fastest jazz pieces, and the most beautiful sacred selections. There seems to be no 'between' piece. In instrumental music," she continued, "the piano and violin are by far the most popular. The piano is most difficult to reproduce and therefore the records are fewer. Bachmanoff, the Russian composer, is now holding the center of the stage in piano records. The violin is, of course, the supreme instrument for recorded music. And the number of sales we make of violin pieces is surprising."

It would seem, from reports of authorities on the musical taste of Tulsa, that the women are more frivolis in their choice. "Men," remarked one girl in a music shop on Main, "always want male voices, either singly or in groups. They seldom ask for any other kind of recorded music, and in sheet music they want those pieces that are adapted to male quartets or chorus singing. It is the women who buy the jazz pieces, the young ones who dance and the working girls. All of the school children incline toward the ragtime music, too."

Music from the light operas, especially "Apple Blossom," "The Sweetheart Shop," "Honey Dew," which is being played on Broadway, and similar American operas are now providing the public with a good grade of popular music. In sacred selections the most popular are "Ave Maria," "There is No Death," "Leave It With Him," and "Thou Wilt Keep Him in Perfect Peace."

BLAMES WILSON FOR PACT DEATH

Senator Sterling Predicts Move on Knox Measure by "New Order"

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Senator Sterling of South Dakota, in an address here today, predicted that President-elect Harding would submit the Knox peace resolution to the senate immediately after the inauguration, to end the state of war between the United States and Germany at once.

Senator Sterling said he forecast a new association of nations of the world assembled about the international court of justice of the present league of nations which Elinor Roosevelt had a hand in forming.

The senator, speaking of mankind's inclination for war, rather than peace, said he had noted that a "certain Mr. Jack Dempsey got $100,000 for a single prizefight here sometime ago, whereas President Wilson received $40,000 in a Nobel peace prize for his peace efforts."

"Who wants to be a pacifist?" he concluded.
Senator Sterling blamed President Wilson for keeping the United States out of the league of nations. He said that "word from the other end of Pennsylvania avenue" prevented ratification of the treaty of peace and the covenant of the league with reservations.

With the new republican administration, the South Dakota senator said he looked for "better things" with the international court forming the basis for an association of nations.

ARREST 3 SWINDLERS

Tenn. Man Charges They "Shiked" Him of $5,000 in Fake Money Exchange Deal

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 8.—Warrants were issued here today for three men held by Memphis police on affidavits furnished by W. W. Criswell, of Ogden, Tenn., that they swindled him out of $5,000 in a fake money exchange deal here in October, 1920.

The three men, John A. Alexander, alias John R. Cayne, J. W. Mooney, alias James Walker, alias J. M. Lawrence, and R. W. Wilson, known as "Lopew" Wilson, were arrested in a raid by Memphis police on the headquarters of an alleged wire tapping gang.

Criswell said he was brought here with Alexander, who he said posed as a realty agent, and desired to "buy Criswell's farm at Ogden." A second man was met here who offered an opportunity to make "big money" on the stock exchange.

Criswell furnished $5,000 in cash and his friends left him to make the "investment." They failed to return.

Hold Negro Prowler As Burglar Who Took Clothing From Store

Prowling around a bargain stand Springs took all the merchandise out of Sam's Hardware store. Justice S. C. Mackey, before whom the negro was given a preliminary hearing Saturday, sent Hawkins to jail under bond of $1,500 for trial by district court on a burglary charge.

A large quantity of men's and women's clothing was stolen from the store of Claude Adams at Sand Springs, November 17. Late the following afternoon a negro boy heard a man prowling on the hay-mow floor of the barn in the rear of the store, and when he investigated found a negro identified as Hawkins in the barn.

Hawkins was arrested after giving the city police officers a chase and a search of the barn revealed most of the stolen goods secured under hay bays. Hawkins denies stealing the clothing but cannot explain his presence in the barn.

FRANCE AFTER BOCHE

Want Civil Guards Disarmed; Method of Obtaining This Result Is Main Peace Discussion

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Discussions as to the methods to be employed in forcing Germany to disarm her civil guards is all that remains to be arranged between British and French governments, says the Economist, which quotes "an important diplomatic personage" at the French foreign office as its authority.

The two governments are declared to be in accord as to the absolute necessity of demanding an effective execution of the German agreement to bring about disarmament.

Reports from the international control commission in Berlin, declares the Petit Parisien, show clearly that a former general of the German imperial staff is head of the civil guard organization and the newspaper declared that France would be satisfied if the Berlin government would guarantee that present organization binding regarding forces and militia together are destroyed.

AMERICAN NAVY RANKS JAPAN'S

But British Fleet Holds Edge on United States Is Latest Figures

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Information now in possession of the American government on the relative strength of the three principal naval powers, believed to be complete, shows the present naval strength of this country to be about half that of Great Britain, while more than double the sea power of Japan. In the first line major ships, including battleships and battle cruisers, the British navy on Jan. 1, 1921, this information shows, numbered 24 vessels of 723,550 tons, while the United States possessed 16 vessels of 386,100 tons, and Japan nine vessels of 267,250 tons. While capital ships under construction for the American navy, including 12 dreadnoughts and six battle cruisers to be completed in 1922, will practically set the British preponderance in this class of vessels, the information shows that the American fleet will be greatly inferior in type of vessels regarded by naval officers as of the first importance in naval strength. These types include, notably, destroyer leaders, cruisers and light cruisers and cruising submarines.

Although with the completion of the present authorized building programs of the two countries, the American navy will have only six battle cruisers, as compared with 12 for that of Japan, it will more than maintain a 100 per cent superiority by virtue of its greater number of battleships and supplemental types of war craft.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff
The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

STILLWATER PUT UPON PIKE TRAIL

Federal Aid to Help the Roads in State to the Extent of $140,000

At a meeting of vice presidents and other officials held here Saturday afternoon, the southwest route from Tulsa to Stillwater was selected by the Albert Pike Highway association as the official route between these two cities. The southern route was favored because it traverses the rich oil fields, touching Mannford, Oilton and Yale.

The official route from Tulsa to Haskell was also settled. It leads through Jenks and Hixby, for the same reason that the Stillwater route is to go through the Cushing fields—because of the oil country served. The determination to favor Jenks and Hixby was also made because Muskogee county has been interested in the construction of hard-surfaced highways.

Those at the meeting at which the contests were settled were Chas. L. Thomas, mayor of Colorado Springs, and vice president of the Albert Pike Highway association from Colorado; J. R. Chaney, Colorado state engineer; H. B. Bullen, Stillwater, C. A. Wood, of the Oklahoma state highway department; R. F. Arnold and Richard Mackey of Kansas; Cyrus Avery, of Tulsa, president of the highway association, and E. Bee Guthrie, secretary, also of Tulsa.

There is a tidy sum of $140,000 additional to go to the construction of better highways in Oklahoma, from the federal aid fund. Dan W. Patton, county engineer, and county officials from Oklahoma City Saturday that this added amount had been approved by the state highway department.

Patton did not state in his telegram why the additional sum was appropriated.

This makes a total of $740,000 in Federal aid given to Tulsa county since the $2,000,000 bond issue was voted. This money is to be used in the construction and maintenance of the highway system.

It's up to Henry. No squeaks or no wife in his car! And when the springs squeak so horribly that even his wife turns against him and talks that way about riding in the old bus, it's plainly time to get busy. The squeaks must be stopped.

But Henry's troubles are over before they begin if he uses

THOMSON'S Graphite Penetrating OIL

All he needs to do is to get a can at his dealer's, squirt some of this oil on the sides of his springs, and stop every squeak in five minutes.

Thomson's Graphite Penetrating Oil goes through the leaves. Without any wedging, it penetrates—dissolves the rust—finds the squeaks—cures them. It deposits a film of pure dry graphite. Any surplus oil seeps out on the other side and evaporates, so that the springs will not collect dust nor grit.

It's the best thing in the world, too, for easily and quickly releasing rusty bolts, nuts, king-pins, brakes and pipe-fittings.

Sold on a money-back guarantee. If Thomson's Graphite Penetrating Oil is not all we say it is—if it does not do all we say it will do—your money will be returned without question.

Try it and see. It costs only $1.00 for a pint can, but it's worth a lot more than that.
